Steven E. Richardson, CFP® earns the CHARTERED RETIREMENT PLANS SPECIALIST$_{SM}$ or CRPS® designation

McLean, VA—Steven E. Richardson, MBA, CFP®, CRPS® of Potomac Financial Private Client Group, LLC, a leading personal and business wealth management and planning firm based in Northern Virginia, announced today that Mr. Richardson has earned the CRPS® designation. Chartered Retirement Plans Specialists or CRPS® professionals must complete a rigorous and specialized program that provides a foundation for giving retirement planning advice to corporations and small businesses.

"We are very pleased that Steve has earned the Chartered Retirement Plan Specialist designation. Steve is responsible for directing PFPCG clients in all areas of retirement plans for businesses, succession and risk management planning for business owners and key person/key man initiatives for businesses. This designation is further testament to Steve's professionalism and to his commitment to serving the extensive needs of our business clients" said Michael Kalas, CFP®, AIF®, President of PFPCG.

Mr. Richardson, a resident of Fairfax, VA and Kilmarnock, VA is Vice President of PFPCG, in McLean, Virginia. He is a member of the Financial Planning Association and serves on the Board of the Rotary Club of McLean.
